

CORN-COB-OLGY PRODUCT DEVELOPMENT SERVICES

Bringing your ideas to life!

We don't just sell products, we develop them. We are a local Australian company and we can tailor products to meet your specific needs. We believe in a collaborative approach to business and look forward to working with our clients for a bright future.

ENGAGE

DEFINE

DESIGN

TESTING

REVIEW

PRODUCTION

THE PROCESS

The Corncobology product development team is led by a highly experienced project manager.

We use a project delivery framework that is built on globally recognised project management principles. This ensures our product development projects run as smoothly and efficiently as possible.

The overall process is divided into six clear phases:

WHAT WE DO

Corncobology has a very strong core in manufacturing, import/export and supply chain and we work with highly experienced industry professionals. Our people have many years experience managing new product development projects of all sizes. From small business to large corporate government agencies, we have experience across a wide range of industries.

We are strongly committed to deliver high quality tailored solutions for all our customers and believe in developing uncomplicated, safe and highly robust products that are based on proven and well-supported technologies.

Our core philosophy is based upon the highest respect for our clients and a drive to produce great results for their business.

Our services include:

- New product concepts and development
- Importing and exporting
- Supply chain management
- Solid logistic solutions
- Project management and implementation
- End to end manufacturing networks and technologies

Got an idea and haven't a clue where to start? Why not talk to us today. Ph +612 9457 0177

Fundraising...

Looking to develop a specific product to assist with fundraising? Looking to source an existing product and brand it with your company details? We look after commercial quantities of branded or unbranded products. We have the experience to ensure that you get the product you require on time and at a reasonable price. Don't make costly mistakes by going it alone...our local sourcing and development team is available to help.

Have your fundraising team contact us to discuss your ideas. Phone us on +612 945 7 0177.